If you are interested in attending this training/shoot, please contact Kara Skokan at kaskokan@fbi.gov

Friends and Colleagues,

It is an honor to welcome you to our county. We are looking forward to hosting the 2022 Oregon Chapter of the FBI National Academy Associates annual training.

Our community started as a logging area but is now identified as a gateway for many outdoor sports, and recreational activities. This is one of the only places you can go skiing in the morning and 30 minutes later, be golfing in the afternoon. Over the last decade our county has grown tremendously by over 50,000 people, outpacing the nation's average growth, to over 210,000.

Thank you all for your commitment to our profession, our teammates, and our communities as well as attending ongoing training in these challenging times for law enforcement. It is my hope this valuable training helps you reflect on the unique and ever-changing needs required of you as leaders in public safety.

Please enjoy the beauty of Central Oregon as you catch up with existing friends and form new ones and let me know how our office can proudly serve you while you are here.

Motivation

Paul Butler is an internationally renowned speaker, presenter, instructor, and entertainer. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Communication with a concentration in Culture and Communication, as well as an Associate's Degree in Criminal Justice. He excels in the areas of motivation, leadership, customer service, and attitude empowerment. During his 27 years of law enforcement, he has been a public servant, training officer, sergeant, crisis negotiator, chief of police, and chief deputy. These opportunities have given him a unique perspective on a vast array of situations and circumstances that many people find themselves in every day. These experiences have helped him to develop the answers to questions and cures to problems most people are facing at work and in life on a continual basis.

Paul became the chief of police of the Aynor Police Department at 22 years of age, making him the youngest police chief in the history of South Carolina. Born and raised on a small farm, his parents served as examples of hard work, common sense, personal responsibility, and respect for self and others. This has played heavily in his success in life and within each organization in which he has served. He believes the power of a positive attitude can take you to the top or help you simply find happiness and pride in the current role you fill. A healthy attitude is often the key to both personal and professional success – this has certainly been the key to Paul's success.

As Chief Deputy of the Horry County Sheriff's Office, he was selected to attend the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia in 2005 for the 220th Session. This 10-week, executive level course was host to 250 attendees from all 50 states and 29 countries around the world. Paul was selected by his class to be their graduation day speaker alongside then-FBI Director Robert Mueller. He continues to serve as the official Master of Ceremonies for the FBI National Academy Associates during their annual training conferences, which are held throughout North America.

To increase his outreach, Paul Butler Presentations was formed and he has been traveling the globe speaking, instructing, and entertaining for all types of groups, organizations, and events. He is consistently one of the highest-rated presenters on the market today and comes with strong references and a list of past and future exciting events on his website: www.Paul-Butler.com.

DR. JOHN R. BLACK

President of Aragon National Inc., a consulting business specializing in understanding sensemaking, decision making, training, evaluations, continuous improvement, and related research. Dr. Black is a nationally recognized Expert Witness in federal and state courts for police practices, police use of force, officer-involved shootings, and police training. He is also a qualified video examiner using Input Ace software up to the examiner and metrological levels.

23+ years of experience, including command level, within law enforcement (Patrol, Investigations, Corrections, & Training). Specialty areas include mental health response and long-term strategies, crisis negotiations, intelligence teams, mobile response teams, and Use of force (UoF) reporting, policy, and accountability. Advanced training reporting, policy, and accountability. Advanced training and involvement with sensitive administrative reviews involving UoF and officer malfeasance.

30+ years of expertise with military special operations (U.S. Army Special Forces, Civil Affairs, Psychological Operations), Civil Intelligence, and national-level operations. Senior trainer, instructor, and mentor in subject areas ranging from critical thinking, leadership, intelligence analysis, and decision-making.

I have lived in both the operator and Intell worlds and continue consulting on varied projects. Throughout it all, I have seen how it all returns to that moment of insight that precedes the decision. I believe that the research space of decision-making/insight generation is a dynamic area. It is a blend of the objective quantitative dimensions combined with the qualitative influence of the human-in-the-loop and their experience, perception, knowledge, and bias.

Today, research tools such as PLS-SEM software (SmartPLS) and NVivo have made exploratory research and modeling accessible to us academics. It is now possible to explore the “fuzzy quantitative” space with a degree of rigor not possible in the past. Combining these frameworks with complexity, Cynefin frameworks, DSRP systems thinking is an amazing opportunity to evolve how we look at the world and evolve it.
